GREAT DAY FOR AVIATORS

Latham Does a Thriller and Radley Flies More Than Mile a Minute—Women Fly.

Belmont, Aviation Field, L. I., Oct. 26.—A forty-mile wind which whistled across the course today promises to spoil today's sport. The American elimination trials for the Gordon Bennett race were scheduled for today. The weather is a keen disappointment to the sail birds who anticipated watching Orville Wright's pocket edition of an aeroplane walk away from the rest. Glen Curtiss' new racing monoplane is also ready today.

The rivalry between him and the Wrights is as keen as ever. Drexel and McCurdy who were lost in the darkness during the cross country flight last night are waiting to fly back if the wind dies down.

The Gordon Bennett race will be held Saturday whether or not the French team starts. The committee says the course the Frenchmen object to is just as safe as that over which Curtiss won the cup at Rheims.

New York, Oct. 26.—The American altitude record that J. Armstrong Drexel so proudly brought down out of the clouds Monday afternoon in his Blériot monoplane was snatched from his grasp yesterday by Ralph Johnstone, in a headless Wright climber.

Drexel reached 7105 feet, but Johnstone topped him by 198 feet with a mark of 7302 feet. He came down chilled to the bone and his goggles rimmed with frost. For half an hour he had battled with a snow storm above the clouds, seeking still higher levels.

The undemonstrative Wilbur Wright danced with joy when he glanced at the barograph. "It's better than 2000 meters," he cried. He knew then that the fourth day of the international aviation meet at Belmont Park had brought him his share of honors.

Hubert Latham in an Antoinette monoplane, led aerial flipflaps under the edge of a nasty looking storm cloud, half a mile up in the air. He righted and then shot to earth in one steep, rushing swoop. The edges of a tree punctured one of his wing surfaces, but he landed with only minor injuries to his machine and none to himself.

When the meet began, with the hourly competition for distance that regularly opens the day's program, the banging of the bomb found Grahame-White out for his daily promenade around the track. Latham was his only competitor, and when engine trouble forced Grahame-White's Farman biplane off the field it looked as if Latham was the Antoinette would have the field to himself.

But White was not to be caught napping. He saw that the scantiest score whatever would bring him second place, and late in the hour, tinkered up his cocky engine to last rounds and took down the easiest, $100 of the tournament.

Hoxsey and Johnstone both went up for altitude. Johnstone had entered for distance, but just before he left the ground, Wilbur Wright instructed him to go after the altitude. In the haste of the moment they both forgot that he was without a barograph, the instrument which records height, and when he came down from the upper levels he had nothing to show how high he had gone and was left unplaced. Count De Lesseps pointed up much later than the two Wright pupils, but caught them both and soaring above them, brought down the prize for the first hour.

The second hourly distance event was a pursuit race. Grahame-White tried his Farman again, found it unreliable, took it off the field for repairs, and during his absence saw the lead he gained by his watchful promptness steadily cut down by speedier rivals who had started late. Hopeless of getting his Farman in running order again, White took out his fast Blériot monoplane, the first time he has been seen in it here in competition. He gained steadily on McCurdy in a Curtiss biplane, but the latter finished first with a lap to the good. It turned out, however, that McCurdy had fouled two pylons in trying to cut the corners time and the forfeit cost him first place.

In the meantime Hoxsey and Johnstone had gone up for altitude again, accompanied this time by Latham in his Antoinette. The wind had ranged steadily all afternoon at between 8 and 12 miles an hour, but not a pattering rain came. The Antoinette was soaring right at the edge of a particularly black cloud its profile in sharp outline.

INSURGENCY THE ISSUE

Powerful Cleveland Leader, Myron
T. Herrick Jumps Into Fray to Defeat Dick.

Columbus, Oct. 26.—It is now apparent that the issue whether the Republican party in Ohio shall be progressive or stand pat, which was successfully sidetracked at the state convention, is about to become paramount.

It is quite true that the platform adopted by that body under the leadership of United States Senator Chas. Dick is conservative to a marked degree yet no open protest was made at that time by Congressman Paul Howland and James R. Garfield, the leaders of the poorly generated progressive element.

The question became obscured in the maze of other matters developed in the campaign, and it was only in the Democratic press that the victory of the stand pat wing was commented upon.

The speech of former United States Senator Joseph Benson Foraker, at Marysville on Saturday last, may be said to have precipitated the present struggle, for his challenge to the progressiveness has been accepted by James R. Garfield, who openly announces that the fight henceforth is to be to a finish, and the combat is not to be postponed until after the election.

This was decided after Warren G. Harding's statement at Cincinnati last Sunday and his speech at Jackson Monday night. In this address Mr. Harding went as far as he could without absolutely committing himself to a continuance of a high protective tariff.

The progressive leaders assert that his utterance was distinctly disappointing to their hopes. They were unwilling that Foraker's declaration, that Harding's election would be a victory for the old order of things should go unheeded.

The intelligence reaches here that Garfield proposed to remain on the stump and meet every new statement of conditions put forth by Foraker until the campaign is over, or until the state executive committee interposes and withdraws either or both of them.

At the present hour Chairman Lewis C. LaJin is not disposed to take any sort of action. When asked today for his opinion of the Republican position, he said:

JACK JOHNSON EASY PICKING FOR OLDFIELD

New York, Oct. 26.—The ambition of Jack Johnson, champion heavy-weight pugilist, to annex other honors as a racing automobile driver received a blight here Tuesday afternoon at the hands of Barney Oldfield Johnson, showed to poor advantage in his role and Oldfield, in one heat of their five-mile race of Sheephead Bay, toyed with the big fighter. Only two heats were needed to settle the question of superiority.

Following his victory Oldfield last night gave out this statement: "I raced Jack Johnson for neither money nor glory but to eliminate from my profession an invader who would have had to be reckoned with sooner or later. If Jeffries had fought Johnson five years ago, the white man would have won and after Jeffries retired he would never have had to fight him again. If I had ignored Johnson for a year or so he probably would have gained much experience on the tracks and bought high-powered cars which I am not getting any better from day to day. I am glad if my victory over Johnson will have any effect on the white man's hope situation."

In the first heat Oldfield ran away from Johnson. He was quicker to get away and Johnson's car never seemed ahead. At the fourth Oldfield led by about a quarter of a mile. His time for the five miles was four minutes, 14 seconds.

The time of the second heat, 5 minutes, 11 seconds, and 5 minutes, 15 seconds, showed that the first heat was the story of the race. But men were slow starting and Oldfield after gaining a lead of several times showed in the third heat that he was a fast driver. He drove a 1908 Buick and was in winning time to check him took a head of 10 yards which was not to be gained.

downfall of existing political conditions. The circular sent out from headquarters says: "From a political standpoint, affairs in our once grand old commonwealth have become a disgrace to twentieth century civilization."

"I am heartily in favor of Governor Harmon's re-election for I want to see the house cleaning go on. I firmly believe that Gov. Harmon is honest and sincere in what he says, and is recognized he will proceed to clean house and restore for the taxpayers of the state of Ohio many thousands of dollars of money illegally taken and put in the pockets of the graters."

When the Republican party was in power at Columbus, they have any move to clean house? They did I never heard of it. They say that they knew it existed but they made no move to investigate it and if outcome was that a pervers of Ohio paid many thousands of dollars in taxes to my pocket books and knives, etc. so that the state officials could make Christmas presents to their friends and I firmly believe if it had not been for the Democratic governor having been elected, it would have been gone by now."

LOSS IS INCALCULABLE

Mud in Valleys is More Than Twenty Feet Deep—Fund for Relief.

Naples, Oct. 26.—King Victor Emmanuel arrived here today and left immediately aboard a torpedo boat for Ischia, where he will assist the minister of marine in the work of relief.

The death list as the result of Sunday night's combined cloud burst, torrential rain, minor eruption of Mount Vesuvius and tidal wave in the Mediterranean increases as the reports of the rescuers come in. The minister of marine today sent a message to the king saying that the number of the dead is likely to exceed 400. The loss to the farmers is incalculable, and growing crops are completely destroyed and live stock killed in the affected region. Many of the injured suffered for hours in the open under the fierce rainfall or caught under the debris of their wrecked homes. It was not until the warships reached the island of Ischia and landed sailors that the work of rescue there was systematized. Doctors were sent from Naples and other cities and the entire work of relief is now under the supervision of the minister of marine.

Besides the damage done on the island, nearly every town in the provinces of Naples and Salerno was more or less seriously damaged. The sea off the coast of Salerno is covered with wreckage, consisting of wrecked houses, broken furniture, timber, trees and the carcasses of animals.

Men, women and children trying to escape from the slopes of Mt. Vesuvius were overtaken and engulfed by the torrents of flowing mud and ashes. The mud in the valleys is more than 20 feet deep, and it is feared there are many bodies buried in it.

The bulk of the inhabitants are so unnerved by the disaster that they sit helplessly about, weeping and wailing and refusing to do anything to help themselves. The only work that is being done is by the soldiers and the sailors.

The king will make a personal inspection of the devastation here at once. Pope Pius has directed the clergy to work with the government officials in aiding the sufferers and has also sent money to buy food and medical supplies. The government fund set aside for relief amounts to $400,000.

HOPE

For Pilots of America II. is Brighter.
Men Carried Arms, Fishing Tackle and Warm Clothing.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 26.—Government officials still profess to believe that Hawley and Post, the American pilots of the balloon America II. are still alive.

Now that it has been established that they carried arms and fishing tackle and warm clothing, they are believed to have a chance to live until found. Their expressed determination to stay up as long as possible leads to the belief that they did so and were blown far into the northern wilderness.

Outside official circles hope for their return is at a low ebb. Men familiar with the country north say it is bitterly cold and almost barren of game.

New York, Oct. 26.—Men who knew Hawley and Post well still insist that they will turn up all right. R. H. Johnston, who made a long hunting trip into Canada with Post, says: "Post is ideally fitted to combat even the severest conditions he might encounter up there."

A WIFE'S TRIALS

HER DUTY TO HOME AND CHILDREN.

A generous, beautiful wife! She has come up through the earlier years of womanhood ever year an added chapter to her development of mind and body. Look at her a year hence, two years hence, five years hence.

The obligations of her sex as wife and mother have, through mismanagement, made inroads upon her health. She is becoming nervous. Her step has lost its springiness, she is tired most of the time. Her back aches and her disposition suffers.

It goes on all around us; ten chances in one some remaining weakness has declared itself and medical attendance becomes necessary.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve medicine is the medicine that will build her up and help Nature throw off the troubles that have come.

Dr. Greene's Nervura is a magnificent help for women at every turn in their lives. It prepares them to every womanly change. It fits them for wifehood and sustains them. It prepares them for motherhood and all the time it not only preserves them physically, it keeps the nerves and disposition in condition to make ideal wives and mothers both.

Take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve medicine for now of all times it is most dangerous to neglect your health, and the system is always made strong and vigorous by this perfect medicine.

Remember the great advantage of having your medicine put up by Dr. Greene, a regular practicing physician, who guarantees his Nervura and will stand behind it at all times. Dr. Greene himself will give free consultation and advice, personally or by mail at his office, 9 West 14th St., New York City, to all who call on him.

LOOSE LEAF LEDGERS ARE TIME SAVERS

Comparatively few business houses have as yet adopted the loose leaf system in taking care of their accounts. Business men as a rule do not pay the attention they ought to this end of the business.

Many firms are ruined just because of the lack of system in taking care of their accounts. Many have the idea that there is something complicated about a Loose Leaf system, and hesitate about adopting it. They do not stop to think that they can save time and money by using a loose leaf ledger or other loose leaf books in their business. They may only save a few minutes each day, for example, we will say 20 minutes, each day. It does not look large, yet 20 minutes multiplied by 300 working days amounts to 18 days of 10 hours each. Enough to give the bookkeeper a vacation which in nine cases out of ten would be of more benefit to the firm than anyone else.

Loose leaf ledgers are being adopted by the more progressive business houses all over the country. There are no reasons why every merchant or professional man in Newark should not have a loose leaf ledger in which to keep his accounts. They are no different from the old style bound books, as they can be locked so no one can take a sheet out of the book except the person having the key without tearing or cutting out the leaf, at least that is the way the majestic

In Social Circles

Mrs. D. H. Miller and Miss Lillian Miller of North Fourth street this afternoon are entertaining about twenty of their friends with a thimble party. The interior of the Miller residence is tastefully decorated with clay antinoms and greenery and at the close of the afternoon an appetizing two course repast will be served.

Mrs. D. H. Miller and daughter, Miss Lillian, of North Fourth street, entertained with seven tables of bridge whist Tuesday afternoon out of compliment to Mrs. J. B. Ferguson, and at the close of the contest the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ferguson and Miss Clara Scott. The parlors were prettily decorated with green vines and here the small tables were arranged upon which a dainty two course luncheon was served after the game.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Orr entertained with a reception and dinner Friday, October 21st, honoring their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Orr.

A two course dinner was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Philip Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Cooperider, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Lee and daughters Lola and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cooperider, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Cooperider and son, Mont, Mr. and Mrs. Finley King, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Orr, Mr. Levi Cooperider, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swinehart, Mr. and Mrs. P. Y. Egan, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Orr, Mrs. Lewis R. Cooperider, Misses Esta Egan, Winifred Starkey, Celia Orr, Lola Orr, Grace Foucht, Gertrude Cooperider, Esta Orr, Orpha Orr, Rozella Orr, Mr. Obed Cooperider, Mr. Ross Swinehart, Mr. Haven Lee, Mr. Grover Orr, Mr. Edgar Orr. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

The Women's Progressive League will meet at the home of Mrs. Jacob Huffman, 273 Boylston avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

At the Town Hall in Sugar Grove, Fairfield county, on Saturday, October 22nd, Rev. and Mrs. T. T. Buell fittingly celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day. An elaborate dinner was served in the hall to 175 guests, and the table, which was prettily adorned with flowers, fairly groined under the abundance of good things to tempt the inner man. A large banner was hung at the end of the hall bearing the dates 1885-1910. Rev. I. F. King D. D. of Columbus, O., performed the wedding ceremony of Rev. and Mrs. Buell twenty-five years ago, invoked the divine blessing, and later gave an interesting address. The bride was formerly Miss Emma Taverner of Jacksontown, Licking county.

The happy couple was the recipients of a well filled purse and many costly gifts which will help them to long remember this delightful event.

Among the guests present from this county were George Townes and wife of Jacksontown; A. B. Gray, Mrs. Owen Taverner, Mrs. Kate Osburn of Jacksontown; J. H. Taverner and wife of Hebron; Mrs. Jane Hirst, and Miss Lillian Hirst of Newark; William Beall of Newark and two children, Winona and John.

The L. C. B. A. of Mt. Vernon entertained Monday evening with a delightful card party and dance in their hall. Among the many guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kear of this city.

The Thursday Bridge club will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by Miss Mame Smucker of Hudson avenue.

The Monday Afternoon Sewing club will be entertained on next Monday afternoon by Mrs. Robbins Hunter of Buena Vista hill.

Miss Mary Robbins of Buena Vista hill entertained the Tuesday Bridge club very delightfully yesterday afternoon and seven tables of players participated in the game, at the close of which the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Charles Hollander, Miss Cornelia Webb and Mrs. William Miller of Goshen, N. Y., for having the most points. A dainty repast was served at five o'clock to the club members and the following guests: Mrs. Walter Metz, Mrs. Robbins Hunter, Mrs. Charles Stinson, Mrs. Fenwick Ewing, Mrs. Charles Montgomery and Mrs. William Miller.

The club will be entertained next Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. W. C. Miller of Hudson avenue.

C. Harrington Davis and wife left Wednesday for Janesville, Wisconsin, where they will visit Mrs. Davis' sister. Mr. Davis will also attend the Dairymen's convention at Chicago.

ONE-STARKEY.

On Thursday, October 20 a very pretty wedding was solemnized in the beautiful rural home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Starkey, near Thornville, at which time their daughter, Ocie, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Wesley Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Orr, Rev. C. Y. E. Lautenschlager officiating.

At 12 o'clock the bridal couple was ushered to the parlor during the playing of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin by Mrs. C. Y. E. Lautenschlager. The bride looked beautiful in a gown of white embroidery with a full length veil and carried white carnations. Immediately after the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where a two course dinner was served to the following: Rev. and Mrs. C. Y. E. Lautenschlager and children Paul and Leah, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Orr, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Bricker, Mr. and Mrs. Day Cooperider, Mr. Frank Walser, Mr. William Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Orr and daughters Esta, Orpha and Rozella, Mrs. Lewis B. Cooperider, Mrs. Harlin Starkey, Mrs. Scott Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vanatta, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Starkey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walser and son Kenneth, Misses Grace Foucht, Emma Meredith, Celia Orr, Sarah Borin, Ida Starkey, Catherine Starkey, Esty Wohler, Winifred Starkey, Mr. Ross Swinehart, Dr. O. Y. Lederman, Mr. Obed Cooperider, Mr. John Starkey, Mr. Grover Orr, Mr. Edgar Orr.

The house was elaborately decorated with autumn leaves and yellow and white chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Orr received many beautiful presents.

HOBECK-TRAGER.

Monday evening at half after seven o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 146 South Cedar street, Rev. Mr. Schmidt of the Lutheran church united in marriage Miss Anna Trager and Mr. Richard Hobeck, a switchman employed by the B. and O. at this point. The impressive ring service was used.

In the wedding party were Miss Winnie Claridge and Mr. David Everts and the bride's father, who gave her away. The bride looked charming in a beautiful wedding gown of white satin and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The interior of the Trager home was elaborately decorated with ferns and house plants, and the bride's table where the bridal party was seated to a delicious three course supper, was beautifully adorned with pink dahlias and ferns. At the tables where the twenty-four wedding guests were seated, the color scheme of yellow, green and white was carried out most effectively with flowers and greenery.

After the guests departed Mr. and Mrs. Hobeck left for their newly furnished home, 150 South Webb street, where they went to housekeeping immediately.

Little Problems of The Home.

Queer Question of Likes and Dislikes.

PERHAPS if we knew all the laws of physics and chemistry, this queer question of likes and dislikes would be explained. For it is a queer question, and bothers many of us. Admirable people there are, who by all codes of sense and ethics, we should like. But we don't. And regular rascals there also are, who by all codes, we should despise. But, to ourselves, we admit a sneaking liking for them.

"Why is this?" we ask wearily. But no answer comes.

In the physical realm we know that like attracts like. May not some such law prevail in the seemingly more unstable, insubstantial realm of mind and spirit?

Perhaps those people who are apparently all we should admire have, underneath their surface virtues, certain qualities that repel. And those who are apparently all we condemn, have, hidden away, certain good qualities that are making their unseen appeal.

It is said that we should obey our intuitions more. Intuitions evidently meaning those feelings which we cannot yet weigh and measure by physical laws or examine under a microscope. Would it not be well, therefore, to try to discover, if under these emotions we call intuitions, there is not some sound law that will guide us inflexibly and help us to choose rightly when swayed by these apparently inexplicable likes and dislikes.

Some of us yield blindly to likes and dislikes. Others refuse to yield, but are guided by surface indications of character, and shape their course by these. In both cases, many come to wreck. If there is some unknown law there which we can use to our profit, why not find it out and let it light our path instead of proceeding in the dark?

If we find ourselves liking some man or woman who by all recognized standards has qualities which we know we neither admire nor respect, let us probe until we see whether there are not hidden qualities which we do admire, or whether the other's undesirable qualities are not finding a response in some unknown traits in ourselves?

If someone has all the qualities the world acclaims good, and yet we feel a repulsion, let us try to discover if there are not "yellow streaks" there which intimacy will reveal and which will cause unhappiness.

And if we discover that like has unfailingly attracted like, or unlike, repelled, let us consider to what this points for us, and abide by it. If it discovers for us something base in our nature, and a yielding to this liking means descent, we should resolutely turn our backs upon it. If it means that the one seemingly good has undesirable traits, let us heed the warning, no matter how fair the prospect may seem. And if it points to as yet undiscovered or undeveloped good, let us march bravely forward to the happiness that is ours in spite of the unpropitious outlook.

But let us not yield blindly to likes and dislikes. Let us see if there is not a law back of them with a message for us.

MEASURES ALTITUDES.

The Use of the Barograph on Aeroplanes and Balloons.

What the compass is to the mariner the barograph is to the aviator. The barograph is an instrument for measuring altitudes. The pressure of the air as it increases or decreases causes a delicate needle to trace a wavy line upon a cylinder which revolves by clockwork. This line indicates not only the exact height that is reached by the aviator, but also the speed at which he is traveling.

The barograph is kept in a weather proof box with a glass front, which is attached to a bar of the aeroplane or to a rope on the balloon. It is officially sealed before the aviator embarks, so there is no possibility of tampering with it, and the seal is taken off in the presence of witnesses at the end of the flight. In this way it is possible to establish absolutely and graphically the altitude which an aviator attains in his aeroplane or balloon. It is necessary for the aviator to watch the barograph constantly, as it indicates a change in the elevation almost to the foot. The sky pilot has to keep his eye on the indicator much as the man at the wheel of the seagoing ship watches his compass. Should the aeroplane or the balloon rise or fall ten or twenty feet the aviator would not be conscious of it unless he looked at the wavering needle tracing its permanent record on a chart before him. This tells him immediately of any changes in the nature of the air currents and gives him timely warning of aerial dangers.

FRIED APPLE SAUCE. Melt in a saucepan a large tablespoonful of butter and turn in one quart of sliced unpared apples (preferably red skinned), sprinkle with sufficient sugar to make them pleasantly tart. Cover tightly and simmer slowly until tender. Serve this immediately either plain or rubbed through a sieve.

STUFFED SHOULDER OF MUTTON. Have the blade removed from the shoulder, then stuff the cavity with the following mixture: One cupful of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley, one teaspoonful of chopped onion, one teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a teaspoonful of pepper, half dozen chopped mushrooms and sufficient melted butter---about one-quarter of a cupful---to thoroughly moisten. Sew or fasten up the opening. Put a bed of vegetables in the bottom of the pan and on this lay the meat. Pour one cupful of water or stock, cover closely and place in a hot oven for half an hour. Uncover and finish cooking, basting every ten minutes and allowing fifteen minutes to the pound. Thicken, season and strain the gravy and send to the table in a boat.

GOLD DUST Makes Hard Water as Soft as Rain Water

Every good housewife knows the value of nice, soft rain water for washing clothes and for all cleansing purposes. * It isn't always convenient to secure rain water, however. Neither is it necessary. GOLD DUST will soften the hardest water, take out the mineral substances and make it so near like the water that falls from the clouds that you couldn't tell the difference.

Think what this means to you on wash-day. There's a deal of difference between the action of hard and soft water for all cleansing. Just a little GOLD DUST added to the water renders it soft and brings out the greatest cleansing value.

Try it the next time you wash clothes or dishes.

GOLD DUST really cleanses so easily that it relieves housework of all its drudgery.

GOLD DUST is sold in 5c and large packages. The large package offers greater economy.

MEETING OF THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE

The next meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee will be held on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 29, At 1 o'clock p. m. All committeemen and sub-committeemen are urged to be present, as business of importance is to be transacted.
J. J. HILL, Chairman.
ARTHUR BOLLWINE, Secretary.
If the voter at the coming election desires to prevent Charles Dick being re-elected to the United States Senate his only alternative is to vote for the Democratic candidates for the Legislature. These are C. W. Miller and W. E. Haas for State Senator and W. D. Fulton for Representative.

There is no cessation in the bitter warfare in high Republican circles. Foraker still assails Roosevelt, and Garfield keeps up his fight on both Foraker and Dick. Yet Dick keeps a tight hold on his power to do the party bossing, and this causes thousands of Republicans to demand that this boss rule shall cease.

In his vilification of Governor Harmon Senator Dick charges the Governor with making an "eleventh hour fight on George B. Cox." It was not until the "eleventh hour" that Cox forced the nomination of Harding for Governor on his party which made his bossism one of the leading campaign issues.

The tax-payers of the county want an affable, agreeable, pain-taking man for County Treasurer, as well as one who has the integrity and known business ability to discharge the duties of the office. In the person of James W. Rutledge, the Democratic candidate, the people have a man to vote for who possesses all these qualifications in an eminent degree.

Constipation

PERSONAL ABUSE, THE METHOD OF DICK AND HIS BOSS FOLLOWERS

Personal abuse and defamation of character, based on reckless and unscrupulous falsehood, is now to be the sole method of warfare on Democratic candidates by the Republican bosses and newspapers until election day. From these shameless assaults and personal vilification no Democratic candidate from Governor Harmon down to the bottom of the ticket will escape. It is the Republican boss method of warfare on Democratic candidates, and in view of the defeat that stares them in the face this year, they are more desperate than ever before. The chief boss in this method of warfare is well known to be Senator Charles Dick, an expert in vilification that descends to the level of blackguardism.

The malicious personal assault on Governor Harmon printed in large type in the American-Tribune Tuesday night was Republican boiler plate matter sent out from the party state headquarters and was WRITTEN BY CHARLES DICK.

Dick is the real boss at Republican state headquarters, and, after the same manner that he so disgustingly vilified Gov. John M. Pattison in 1905, he is getting in his scurrilous work against Governor Harmon, the ablest and best chief executive the state has had for a generation, in the present campaign.

Dick is so notoriously unpopular with the decent people of all parties that he dare not go on the stump. His speech-making would do the party more harm than good. That is the reason that he is playing his old game of carrying on a campaign of personal abuse of Democratic candidates without coming out in the open, and his loyal followers in Newark, who constitute the Republican bosses of this locality, are resorting to his methods to the best of their ability and ingenuity.

Such methods will not succeed in gaining votes from honest, fair-minded people.

LOOK FOR YOURSELF

In an outburst of anger Mr. Harding declared in one of his campaign speeches that "Governor Harmon has been a failure."

An easy thing to say, but a difficult thing to prove. If proved at all the proof must be detrimental to Mr. Harding's hopes and ambitions.

If Governor Harmon has been a "failure," ask the present Republican legislature the reason why. Ask the g. o. p. bosses, who controlled the present Republican legislature during both of the sessions the reason why.

For an answer, you have only to remember what you read in Republican papers last January at the opening of the regular session—that Governor Harmon's recommendations were to be ignored or worked out in some other way than he proposed so that none of the credit should be given him for any of the legislation enacted during the session.

Look at the tax limit law, which Governor Harmon urged should be fixed at 10 mills, but which the legislature put at 15 mills, and g. o. p. speakers with unblushing hypocrisy try to criticize Governor Harmon because he let it become a law without signing it. For if Governor Harmon is re-elected, he intends to renew the fight to have a 10 mill tax limit law passed as one of the first acts of the next session. But Mr. Harding makes no such promises.

Look at the tax commission law, which the Republican legislature would not pass without retaining to the g. o. p. machine partisan control over the appointment of local boards of tax reviews.

Look at the important measures which the legislature passed in such imperfect form that Governor Harmon was obliged to veto them.

Look at the dozen or more important measures recommended by Governor Harmon which the Republican legislature ignored entirely.

Look at the anti-lobby message of Governor Harmon that was laid on the table as an "intentional insult" and the refusal to enact a law curbing the bold practices of professional lobbyists.

Look at the confirmation of a long list of appointments submitted by the retiring Governor Harris, a week before Harmon was inaugurated to the Harmon's hands by filling every place possible in advance to make sure that Governor Harmon's administration would be a "failure." And the very first name on that list was the chief engineer of the state board of public works, who kept the canal graft so well covered up, whose successor Governor Harmon was not able to name until May of this year.

After all this Mr. Harding has the gall to stand up before an audience of voters and say that Governor Harmon has been a failure.

If there has been any failure in Governor Harmon's administration it has been because of the very forces that are behind Mr. Harding's campaign. By calling Governor Harmon a failure Mr. Harding has unconsciously and unintentionally given the voters of Ohio an additional reason for his own defeat and an additional reason why the November election should result in a clean sweep for HARMON AND HIS ENTIRE TICKET.

For Supreme Court Judge
JAMES JOHNSON,
Springfield, Clark County.

James Johnson, Jr., of Springfield, Clark County, was born in Springfield, Ohio, Dec. 3, 1857.

He graduated from Wittenburg college in 1877, was admitted to the bar of Ohio in October, 1880, and became a member of the firm of Prangle & Johnson, which continued until 1907.

Mr. Johnson was Democratic candidate for circuit judge in the Second circuit, which has a Republican majority of about 5000 and was defeated by only 167 votes.

He was elected mayor of Springfield in 1895, has been president of the Bar association of his county and has occupied many positions of trust in his city.

Mr. Johnson was nominated by the Democratic state convention at Dayton as one of the candidates for supreme judge, there being two to elect.

SENATORIAL CANDIDATES

(Delaware Journal-Herald)

Delaware county should see to it that the administration that has been successful of good times, the discovery of bad conditions and the correction of every thing that could be improved, should be continued and Governor Harmon re-elected to the chief executive's chair. Ohio never had a better governor, nor did the opportunity ever present itself to the people to vote for a better man.

The governor and the general assembly should be of the same political party and now is the time to boost earnestly for the candidates from this district. W. E. Haas of this city, and C. W. Miller of Livingston county. Many favorable expressions are heard on all sides concerning their chances and their many friends are adding to their list of workers, the aid of others every day. In other parts of the district come in good reports and it is expected that Delaware county will not fall behind for these two candidates.

When the nominations were made, the convention chose Haas and Miller and now their many friends are working for their election.

Governor Harmon should be encouraged in the good work that he has started and this is no time to thwart the work that has been turned up in Columbus. Let Ohio be served by the best governor that ever set foot in Columbus. Give him a legislature that will provide opportunities for his measures to become effective and Ohio's great name will rise higher and higher in the estimation of our neighbors near and afar.

The voters of Ohio should look at the state situation. We have business of importance to transact at home. The selection of men to conduct the business of the state does not wholly involve a consideration of national affairs and should not be made to do so. Good government in Ohio is necessary in order that the state may keep her high rank in the sisterhood of states and be able to do her share in maintaining the well being of the Union. There is but one way to secure this and the voters in Delaware county should do their part in bringing about the election of Haas and Miller, who will effect, so far as they can, a successful administration and help, by their share, Governor Harmon in the great responsibility that he has before him.

Let the voters be up and doing. The time is growing short. Do your work well, fellows, and we dare say that Delaware county will hold its high place in the association of counties

A FRAUD.

HARDING AND THE UNIONS.

One of the Democratic falsehoods sent out over the state by the Democratic bosses and published in local Democratic papers charged Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate for Governor, with being an enemy of union labor and with having opposed the local typographical union at Marion. The best answer that can be given to that falsehood is the following official statement of the Marion Typographical Union itself of which the Marion Star, Mr. Harding's paper, is a member. It is as follows:

Mr. W. G. Harding has referred to the Marion Typographical Union certain questions for answer. We beg to reply. There was a Typographical Union in Marion for two or more years, five years ago. The Marion Star was a union shop during all the period of the union's existence. Mr. Harding never "harassed or discouraged" the union. On the contrary, more than half the Star employees were paid higher wages than the union scale.

When the union existed here previously the nine hour scale was in force. The eight hour question was never raised. The Star never reduced any employees' pay. On the contrary, while the union was in existence men employed under the scale at $1.50 were advanced to $2.00. There is a Typographical Union in Marion now. It was never opposed by the Marion Star. Our contract was readily accepted, machine men, foremen and some advertising compositors are paid higher wages than the union scale, and though our present contract does not call for increased pay for excess time, the Marion Star pays the excess rate voluntarily. The Marion Star has always been more than fair, and the union has never been opposed. We have the eight hour day.

(Signed) W. E. MESSENGER, Secretary.
(Seal) GEORGE R. SNYDER, President.

—Sandusky Register.

The above article is a misrepresentation and a fraud. It does not represent Marion Typographical Union, No. 675, but only George R. Snyder and W. E. Messenger as individuals. The question of Mr. Harding's attitude toward union labor has never been taken up and acted on in the union and hence the name of the union has been used without warrant of any lawful authority in this matter. Such an abuse of official power is expressly prohibited by section No. 107 of the I. T. U. bylaws, and it will be thus seen that Messrs. Snyder and Messenger having no power to make such a statement, pretending and assuming to represent Marion Typographical Union, No. 675, they did not do so and the pretense that they have done so is a fraud. The only way the name of the Union could be lawfully used to stand for such a statement is by calling a meeting and passing a resolution to that effect. But no meeting has been called for such a purpose, and no such a resolution has ever been offered, much less passed.

Mr. Harding, according to the above article, is all union, whole union and nothing but union. Now, we have a question for Mr. Harding to answer, not to us but to the public: When the petition was circulated for signatures to apply for a charter for this union, which is now organized, what did Mr. Harding say to some of the employees of the Marion Daily Star when he called them into his private sanctum? Did it savour so strong of union then? He has frequently declared that he did not believe in the union for political purposes. Recent events throw a very bright light on that pretense according to our information and belief.

Members of Marion Typographical Union, No. 675.

If Warren G. Harding had been the loyal friend and supporter of the Typographical Union that the Editor of the Advocate has been during all the years of its existence in this city, it would have been both a pride and a pleasure for him to have carried the union label at the head of his paper for the last 14 years.

that go to make up the greatest state in the Union.

Mayor Haas has served the people of Delaware in a satisfactory manner. He has striven to quiet all minor disturbances and has succeeded in overcoming many little questions that if neglected, would perhaps have grown to greater proportions. During his first term when he was elected by a majority of but twelve votes, he gave his best attention to his official work. The people gave him a majority of 495 at the time he was re-elected mayor and at the senatorial convention he was chosen with Mr. Miller to take a step higher. He has given general satisfaction and the voters should put their shoulders to the wheel and continue to keep Delaware county in the foreground. Both men would greatly add to the strength of the administration.

Senator Dick says "the Senatorial contest is already settled, if the Legislature is not Democratic." Then there is no doubt about the duty of the people to make the Legislature Democratic, when the very name of Dick is such a tarnish on the great state of Ohio.

The eighteenth day of the Enquirer's straw vote in Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton and other cities, shows the following: Harmon, 3,117; Harding, 2,741; Socialist, 418. The result also shows that 20 1-2 per cent more Republicans have changed to Democrats than Democrats to Republicans.

ENDING IN A WRANGLE

Harding's campaign has degenerated into a wrangle between Foraker and Roosevelt.

Foraker has flayed unmercifully not Roosevelt only but also Roosevelt's new nationalism. Foraker says the Rooseveltian preachment "is not nationalism, either new or old, but imperialism pure and simple," and that "it is, in spirit at least, as TREASONABLE AS SECESSION itself."

Roosevelt is to come into Ohio almost at the very close of the campaign. And why? In view of the editorials in Harding's paper denouncing Roosevelt and upholding Foraker; in view of Roosevelt's question, "Who's Harding?", after the Columbus convention; in view of the Outlook editorial tearing the Ohio Republican platform to shreds; in view of Roosevelt's repudiation of the tariff plank of the New York Republican platform, which Chairman Laylin boasted was as much like the Ohio platform as two peas in a pod; in view of Son-in-law Longworth's defense of the Payne-Aldrich tariff and the stand-pat tariff speeches of Harding, Dick and Burton, there is nothing left for Roosevelt to say in Ohio except to reply to Foraker and "burn him up."

Thus Harding's campaign at the finish is submerged under the waves of personal vindictiveness lashing back and forth between Foraker and Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, what are the people of Ohio thinking and saying? Judson Harmon as governor of Ohio HAS MADE GOOD. Harmon is a candidate for re-election. He has thoroughly begun a Herculean task of housecleaning in Ohio's capitol, and there is much more yet to do.

The people of Ohio care nothing about the quarrel between Foraker and Roosevelt. What they want is competent and business-like administration in the public offices of this state, no matter where or when Foraker and Roosevelt carry on their quarrel.

If these two Republican hotspurs cannot get through with their war of words before election they can fight it out after election where and when and how they please, but the outcome of it has nothing to do with the administration of public offices at the state house of Ohio.

Therefore, intelligent and self-respecting voters of all political parties have resolved to vote for HARMON AND HIS ENTIRE TICKET, because they want to make it a clean sweep this time to make sure Governor Harmon's hands shall not be tied during his second administration as they were during his first.

Commendable Courage.
They are putting all sorts of prop positions up to Governor Harmon and he is meeting them with a courage that is commendable and which will win for him the admiration and support of every fair-minded, law-abiding citizen of the great state.—Alliance Leader.

"Uncle Joe" seems to have knocked all the wind out of Roosevelt's son-in-law when he called Nick a windmill.

When the bell boy strikes his gait it should be a "front" gait.

Tonsiline Cures Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care.

The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments. Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected.

Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it.

Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsiline. Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can be prevented by the timely cure of the Sore Throat by the use of TONSILINE.

If taken in time a dose or two will do it.

TONSILINE is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it; every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it.

The one most important thing to remember about TONSILINE is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat.

HOW TO BREAK A SEVERE COLD IN A FEW HOURS

Nothing else that you can take will break your cold or end gripe so promptly as a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

The most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress begin to leave after the very first dose.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Gripe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

No city is greater than its character ideals.

A good many opinions rise in the stomachs.

A CAREFUL MAN.

His indecision in the Matter of Employing a Doctor.

The parsimony of the old New Englander of the type now almost vanished was nobly exemplified in Mr. Benny Huntingdon, who lived with his maiden sister in a little town in western Massachusetts. Neither had ever spent a penny unnecessarily and when in his old age Mr. Benny became crippled with "the rheumatism" and had, as well, strange flutterings of the heart, which were unrelieved by the best recommended "rubb teas," they were greatly shocked at the suggestions and warnings of their friends and neighbors that they ought to send for a doctor. Mr. Benny refused, declared his scorn of the entire medical profession and continued to save his pennies.

But the pain grew worse. Mr. Benny was confined to his bed in great agony and overheard some of the neighbors telling his sister that he was going to die. Then he sent for an old schoolmate, a man as "careful" as himself.

"Josiah," he asked, in a low, confidential tone, "have you ever had a doctor?"

Josiah shook his head. "Dunno as I have," he answered.

Mr. Benny reached out and laid a trembling hand upon his old friend's arm. "Josiah," he asked again, "did you ever hear how much one o' them doctors charges for a visit?"

Josiah looked at his suffering friend with pitying sympathy. "Well," he said, breaking it as gently as he could—"well, I have heard, Benny, that they charge as much as $2 a visit!"

"Two dollars?" Mr. Benny repeated. "Two dollars!" Then he sank back on his pillow and sighed in a voice of strangely mingled relief, regret and resignation. "Well, I dunno but I'd rather spend $5 than die!"—Youth's Companion.

The Licorice Plant.

The licorice plant resembles a rose with a single green stem, reaches a height of about three feet and bears a small purple star shaped flower. The first year's root growth resembles a loosely twisted string of tow and may run to twenty feet in length. The second year it assumes a woody substance when dry, and the third year it acquires its commercial value. The time for digging the root is the winter, when it is dried and crushed under heavy stones drawn round on it by mules, much as olives are crushed to extract their oil.

Queer Kaffir Custom.

Kaffir women will not pronounce their husband's names or even use words which contain the emphatic syllable of those names. One old woman, being taught to say the Lord's prayer, changed the word from "come" in "Thy kingdom come" to something that made nonsense, and it proved that the proper "come" word was the main syllable of her husband's name.

Proving His Contentment.

"Jones is an optimist, even in the most discouraging circumstances, isn't he?"

"Why, no. His mother-in-law is slightly indisposed, and he thinks there's no hope for her recovery."

"Well, what did I tell you?"—Cleveland Leader.

We Treat You 30 Days FREE

Blood Poison

Blood Poison can never be cured with mercury or potash. You might as well knock this first as last. Medical authorities say so. The most these drugs can do to drive the blood poison back into the system and smother it for several years. Then when you think you are cured, pitiful mercury symptoms break out and you find that your bones have been rotting all the while. Your teeth will begin to loosen and your tissues, glands, brain and vital organs will show the terrible destructive power of the mercury and potash. Locomotor Ataxia, Paresis, Imbecility and Premature Death are the almost inevitable results. Any medical authority will corroborate these statements. The remarkable vegetable Obbac Treatment does not drive in the but drives it out. It positively contains no mineral poisons whatever and is safe. The Obbac Treatment you never run the terrible risk of having your bones rot, your nerves collapse, your teeth fall out, your kidneys degenerate, or your brain weaken. The Obbac Treatment is a marvel, producing remarkable changes in only 30 days. This is why we offer you a blood poison cure free for 30 days.

30-Day Treatment FREE

You want to be cured and cured quick—not poisoned with mercury and potash. The Obbac Treatment is yours for the asking. You will open your eyes at what a blood poison is. You will see the reason for the cure. You will see to us and get the treatment free. Then if you are satisfied it is the most remarkable treatment you ever took, you can order a course of 30 days. Never in your life will you have again an opportunity for a complete cure, as is given you by this

Great Obbac Treatment

This is a square deal. You can get it, no matter, make no promises, except to take the treatment.

The wonderful Wassermann Test, the only blood poison test known to scientists, proves that the body is completely purified by the Obbac Treatment, and that mercury and potash do not cure blood poison. Sit down and write to us, giving a full history of your case in detail. We will treat your letter as a sure confidence. Consultation and advice free. We will send you also the remarkable book, "Driving Out Blood Poison," free.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Wise Men Of Gotham

"In the olden days in England," began daddy one evening, "the men of the town of Gotham were thought to be all foolish. But they were not really as foolish as other folks believed them to be, as you shall learn from this evening's story."

"Once the king of England sent word to Gotham that he was going to pay a visit to the town. That did not please the people, for they knew that if he came it would cost them a great deal of money, so they set to work and cut down big trees to fall into the road so the king and his men could not come. That made the king very angry, and he sent word to the men of Gotham that he would send his sheriff and soldiers to cut off their noses."

"For a time the men of Gotham were greatly frightened, but finally one of them said, 'When the king's men come let us all pretend to be fools and he will not punish us.' They all thought that was a splendid idea."

"Well, the king's sheriff and his men rode through the fields toward Gotham. The first thing they saw was a lot of men building a stone wall."

"What are you doing?" asked the sheriff.

"There is a cuckoo inside here," said the men, "and we are building a wall to close him in so we can catch him."

"You foolish fellows!" said the sheriff. "Don't you know that, no matter how high you build your wall, the bird will fly out at the top?"

"Why, is that so?" said the men of Gotham. "We never thought of that. How wise you are!"

"The next thing the sheriff saw was a man carrying a door on his back. When they asked him why he was doing that he said:

"I have left a large sum of money at home, and I am carrying the door so no one can break in and steal my money."

"You foolish fellow!" said the sheriff. "Why did you not leave the door at home and take the money with you?"

"Why, I never thought of that. How wise you are!"

"A little farther on the sheriff saw a lot of men rolling big stones up a hill. They were all old men. At the foot of the hill were some young men, and they were all grunting."

"It made the sheriff laugh when he heard that the old men were rolling the stones up the hill to make the sun rise, while the young men were grunting because their fathers worked so hard, so the poor sheriff went back to the king and told him it was a pity to punish the poor men of Gotham, for they were all fools and did not know what they did."

The second of the series of dime concerts being given by the ladies of the Second Presbyterian church took place at the Music Hall last night. Those taking part were Florence King, Lida Newton, Daisy Thomas, Miss Penny, Minnie Bentley, Mamie Kane, Lizzie King, Dora Lisle, Nellie Gates, Fannie Sites, Fannie Reese, and Messrs. Dean, Howard, Pullen and Weaver.

Clinton Derthick, a merchant of Johnstown this county, reported the particulars of a burglary and robbery at his residence at an early hour yesterday morning. This is the ninth time Mr. Derthick has been similarly visited during the past sixteen years, besides being burned out twice during the past year.

Fifty Years Ago Today.

Oct. 26.

James C. Adams, a hunter who was among the first, perhaps the very first, to introduce California bears in the east, died at Neponset, Mass. Adams established a menagerie of bears in New York and had numerous fearful encounters with his pets when forced to subdue them hand to hand. This earned him the nickname "Grizzly" Adams.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

Telephone Company's Office.

The Newark Telephone Company, which is building a structure adjoining the Arcade, where the new automatic exchange will be installed within a few months is opening a contracting office at No. 17 Arcade, opposite the Browne grocery. The Newark Electrical Company, which formerly occupied this room is now located at No. 20, Arcade. The new automatic service will be demonstrated in the telephone company's office, No. 17.

NEW CAN OPENER

One Arm Remains Stationary While Other Shears Through Tin.

A new kind of can opener has been designed by a New York man. It is radically different from the type heretofore in use and resembles nothing so much as a nut cracker. A pair of levers are pivoted together at one end. In one of the levers is a spike, which is thrust into the top of the can and holds that arm stationary for the other to revolve upon. The other lever has notches along it and has a movable cutter device with projections on the inside to engage the notches and hold it in a particular place. This arm of the implement describes a circle and as it does so the blade shears through the tin and removes a circular piece, leaving the piece fast by one small strip which can act as a hinge or can be broken off and the top entirely removed. The cutter can be adjusted so that the circle described is the size of a small or large can of food within the boundaries of a rectangular can. The device is said to be much easier of operation than the openers which are pumped up and down along the edge of the can.

GERONIMO IN ACTION.

The Indian Chief's Story of How He Whipped the Mexicans.

About noon we began to hear them speaking my name with curses. In the afternoon the general came on the field, and the fighting became more furious. I gave orders to my warriors to try to kill all the Mexican officers. About 3 o'clock the general called all the officers together at the right side of the field. The place where they assembled was not very far from the main stream, and a little ditch ran out close to where the officers stood. Cautiously I crawled out this ditch, very close to where the council was being held.

The general was an old warrior. The wind was blowing in my direction, so that I could hear all he said, and I understood most of it. This is about what he told them: "Officers, yonder in those ditches are the red devil Geronimo and his hated band. This must be their last day. Ride on them from both sides of the ditches. Kill men, women and children. Take no prisoners; dead Indians are what we want. Do not spare your own men; exterminate his band at any cost. I will post the wounded to shoot all deserters. Go back to your companies and advance."

Just as the command to go forward was given I took deliberate aim at the general, and he fell. In an instant the ground around me was riddled with bullets. My horse was untouched. The Apaches had seen. From all along the ditches arose the fierce warcry of my people. The columns wavered an instant and then swept on. They did not retreat until our fire had destroyed the front ranks. After this their fighting was not so fierce, yet they continued to rally and readvance until dark. They also continued to speak my name with threats and curses. That night before the firing had ceased a dozen Indians had crawled out of the ditches and set fire to the long prairie grass behind the Mexican troops. During the confusion that followed we escaped to the mountains.—From "Geronimo's Story of His Life," by S. M. Barrett.

GROWING CHILDREN

play hard and work hard at school, and rapid growth uses up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that needs replacing.

This accounts for the many delicate, sickly and ailing children we see on our streets.

We wish the mother of every such child would come to our store for a bottle of Vinol, as it is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic which children love to take, and it is easily assimilated.

A grateful mother at Durand, Mich., says her little girl was weak, pale, and had no appetite. She gave her Vinol and she began to thrive at once—and she gained rapidly in weight, color and strength. Name furnished on request.

Vinol builds up good healthy flesh and muscle tissue and makes thin little limbs round and plump.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that if it does not benefit your child your money will be returned. F. D. Hall, druggist.

Father of Tree Surgery.

IV.—Errors in Transplanting Trees.

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

AMERICA was "the land of forests," but mountain, dale, hill and plain are now about denuded of her trees, thereby destroying both wealth and glory. I was recently called to Phillipsburg, Pa., to give a lecture on "The Salvation of Our Trees," and in going from Tyrone to Phillipsburg I nearly made the heart sick. The beautiful hills on that part of the Allegheny mountains were entirely stripped of trees, and even the young growth, six inches in diameter, had been cut away to be used as "mining props." The coal mines are nearly exhausted, and many people told me they would not live on the lands just for paying the taxes, for they would starve to death. And yet on those hills forty years ago were growing the most magnificent specimens of pines, hemlock and other conifers. It is with sadness that the people have seen the pristine forests fade away.

There is an instinctive love of the tree in man, and as he looks upon the barren bleakness of treeless expanse he sighs for something to relieve the dreary, monotonous barrenness of the soil and commences to realize what it means to be without shade in the heat of summer and no trees to break the fury of the blasts in winter; hence he readily saw that there should be shade trees by the highway, clumps or groves around the home, as well as the fruit trees in the orchard and garden. He goes to the woodlot and hunts for the young maple or elm and, having found them, proceeds to plant. One of the commonest mistakes he makes is to plant too close together, but the one mistake above all others is—well, "Whack!" off goes the top.

Very often the shade trees come from the nurseries with this same grave error committed on them.

By cutting off the top in order to live at all the growth is forced out from the twigs, and as the stub gradually decays a weak point is made right in the center, so that as soon as the branches are of any considerable size the strain of the windstorms rends it open at that point where the greatest strength is required. Every storm that comes along is weakening it still more, and the larger the branches the greater the leverage of the wind.

A storm had just passed and taken off one-third of the farthest tree in illustration No. 7. It had also split the other two limbs. In other words, the tree was ruined. In illustration No. 8 just one-half of the tree is wrecked off in a violent storm, and this tree also is ruined.

The mistake generally lies in selecting too large a tree, and, being too large, the height also is objectionable, and the winds would be apt to blow it over. Knowing this, the top is taken off, with the result that has been described.

The best size for common planting is a tree about as big as a broom handle. The proportions of the length of such a tree, say a maple or elm, would be almost twelve feet, and a good stake would hold it in place. A small tree will almost invariably grow, because it has its "feeding roots."

EXPOSITION FIGHT INTERESTS COUNTRY

San Francisco Outclasses New Orleans in Every Respect

The great fight that is being waged between San Francisco and New Orleans for the honor of celebrating the completion of the Panama canal is attracting the attention of the entire country. The fight is no longer a contest between the two cities, but between California and Louisiana, the legislatures of which have each authorized a state tax to raise funds in aid of the proposed international exposition.

In financial standing California is so far ahead of Louisiana that its superior ability to finance the fair must be conceded, and if the question of selecting a site for the exposition were to be decided on a basis of the relative wealth of the contestants, congress would have no option, but would be forced to award the coveted honor to San Francisco.

To the unprejudiced observer it is difficult to see wherein New Orleans has any legitimate claim to recognition as the logical point for the exposition, aside from the mere fact that it is located nearer to the center of population. In beauty of surroundings, climatic advantages, ability to handle the hundreds of thousands of prospective visitors, general progressive spirit of its people and record of achievement, San Francisco stands head and shoulders above its rival.

According to the report of the national monetary commission on April 28, 1909, the population of California was 1,732,000, and that of Louisiana 1,642,000, while in the amount of savings deposits California ranked fourth among the states of the Union and Louisiana twenty-fourth, the exact figures being as follows:

California	$281,224,437.26
Louisiana	21,355,283.90

California had $25,483 depositories, averaging $553.00; Louisiana 162,314, averaging $134.00.

The total resources as represented in bank deposits were: California, $942,864,880.00; average per capita $186.70. Louisiana, $158,612,502.00; average per capita, $96.61.

The following figures are taken from the report of the reports of the California comptroller of currency:

San Francisco—Total savings deposits, $157,792,186.05; total individual deposits, $12,927,437.47; average, $740.00.

New Orleans—Total savings deposits, $16,586,787.43; total individual deposits, $1,128,077.18; average $200.00.

Increase in resources of National banks, year 1909-1910: San Francisco, $103,620,928.96; New Orleans, $2,310,226.74.

In the face of such a showing New Orleans and Louisiana do not appear to be in the same class with San Francisco and California, financially. And California is as much superior to Louisiana in every other respect as she is financially, just as San Francisco is immeasurably superior to New Orleans in all that goes to make a great and beautiful city.

San Francisco is the ideal site for the Panama-Pacific International exposition in 1915. Let congress make no mistake.

BURDEN TOO HEAVY FOR NEW ORLEANS

City Already Struggling Under an Indebtedness of $40,916,918.13.

New Orleans is far from being a unit in favor of the proposed state tax to raise a fund of $6,500,000 in aid of the World's Panama exposition.

The New Orleans Taxpayers' Protective association has adopted a strong resolution, which is being widely distributed in the form of a circular letter, advising its members to oppose the levy, principally on the ground that the city is already taxed and bonded to the limit of endurance and that the taxpayers are not able to bear the additional burden.

The letter quotes the comptroller's report of Dec. 31, 1909, to prove that the present bonded debt of the city is $32,521,040, on which the annual interest amounts to $973,740. In addition to this the water and sewerage board is attempting to sell $7,000,000 of bonds, bearing interest at 4 per cent and the unpaid ordinances and unfinished contracts for paving amount to $343,168.33 and $852,709.80 respectively, bringing the total indebtedness of the city up to the enormous sum of $40,916,918.12.

To the above must be added more than $5,000,000, which must be paid by the city on state bonds now due, the courthouse commission carries a debt of $750,000, the dock board $3,000,000, and the levee board $3,000,000.

Continuing, the letter says: "Remember, also, that if the city of New Orleans succeeds in selling her $7,000,000 of bonds, the water and sewerage board will compel every property holder, to the number of 66,000, to put in the sewerage and waterworks in their premises at a cost of not less than $250 per residence, thus making the enormous sum of $16,000,000.

"Where is all this money to come from?"

"The taxpayers feel that the interest on the outstanding indebtedness is now over $1,400,000 and will absorb all the revenue if the debt is permitted to accumulate."

GRANVILLE

LUTHER ROSE STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY WHILE MILKING.

Quail Picked in Vicinity of Old College City—Preparing for Halloween.

Granville, O., Oct. 26.—Mr. Luther Rose, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Granville township, and who is known all over Licking county, while engaged in milking at his home, just south of the village, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy, and fell over in an unconscious condition. He was found lying on the ground and was carried into the house and a physician summoned. Everything possible was done for him, and as Mr. Rose is past seventy years of age his condition is considered extremely critical. He has been lying in an unconscious condition ever since he was stricken on Monday.

It is said that there is a probability of some of the boys who had a hand in the bonfire episode of Saturday night, getting into trouble. Complaint has been made in several instances, and the mayor is said to have the names of the offending parties. But what could one expect when Denison won a game like that of Saturday?

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Crow and daughter, Mary, of Paris, Ill., who have been visiting relatives and friends here for a few days, returned home Wednesday.

It is said by some that squirrel and quail are very abundant this fall, the later on account of the dry weather which permitted two hatchings. Hunters who go into the woods for the real sport there is in it and not just for slaughter, will probably appeal to the next legislature to place a limit upon the number of squirrels which may be killed in a day. However, your correspondent has not learned of any Granville men who have exceeded the limit.

Not many nights left until Halloween, the night upon which the boys and girls big and little, turn out to do honor to that time-worn custom of emulating the walking of the ghost and to assist in keeping in vogue that old relic of pagan times when the evil spirit was supposed to have been abroad in the land. There is perhaps no night in the year which the popular imagination has stamped with a more peculiar character than that of Halloween. In recent years the rising generation has divided the old line forms of celebrating the ancient ways and some newer forms of celebration have been brought into use. Granville has always been a great town for Halloween celebrations. Many parties are held each year, especially by the students of Denison college and Shepherdson. The dorms are favorite places for the girls to hold their stunts, while the boys are in evidence a plenty. During recent years the students, however, have indulged only in pranks of an innocent nature, which is much to their credit.

The regular meeting of Altamaha Lodge, No. 296, Knights of Pythias, of this place, will be held this evening, when it is hoped that there will be a large attendance, as arrangements are to be completed for the trip to Newark on Thursday night to attend the county convention of the Knights of Pythias. It is expected that there will be representatives from every lodge in the county, and old Altamaha lodge should make a good showing.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Curtis and son Morgan, of Delaware, O., who have been visiting relatives and friends here for a few days have returned home.

Leave the Discomforts and Worries of a Burdensome Life in the East and Go to the Land of Plenty.

Never was the message "Go West" so full of such real meaning to the seeker of home and happiness as it is today. Already it has spelled comfort and the joy of living to those who have left behind them the toil of worn-out eastern farms and underpaid jobs for the Land of Plenty in the glorious Sacramento Valley, California.

This land consists of thousands of acres of soil second-to-none in richness in the world, made still more productive by irrigating streams from the nearby Sacramento River. Behind this great irrigation project is the Sacramento Valley Irrigation Company, headed by Mr. W. S. Kuhn, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Profits! Profits!! Profits!!!

Imagine, if you can, land that works for you nearly every month of the twelve; land that keeps you busy taking one crop out and putting another in; land that grows everything, from Irish potatoes to fine, full-flavored oranges; land that knows no damaging frosts, snows, blizzards, droughts, washouts, or other eastern drawbacks; a land having more sunny days than Southern Italy; a land where men and women are not merely contented, but happy, independent, FREE. That land actually exists in the Golden Sacramento Valley, California.

You don't have to take anyone's mere word for it. Here are crop figures based on actual results accomplished in this same valley, and published by Three Chambers of Commerce and a State Board of Trade. Read them. What these men and women have done, you can do:

Net Profit Per Acre.

Almonds, $40 to $100; Apricots, $50 to $150; Alfalfa, $40 to $80; Asparagus, $100 to $250; Beans, $60 to $100; Blackberries, $250 to $300; Cherries, $100 to $225; Sugar Beets, $30 to $75; Figs, $100 to $200; Grape Fruit, $75 to $200; Grapes, $50 to $150; Lemons, $100 to $225; Logan Berries, $250 to $400; Oranges, $100 to $200; Olives, $50 to $200; Potatoes, $50 to $150; Peaches, $100 to $200; Prunes, $100 to $200; Plums, $100 to $200; Strawberries, $150 to $300; Tomatoes, $50 to $150; Walnuts, $100 to $200.

Oranges, figs and lemons frequently yield as high as $2,500 to $3,000 per acre.

The Cost.

Four cents a day per acre! Think of it! And you have ten years, if you like, in which to pay for your farm—with permanent water rights. A small farm here yields more net profit than one many times its size in almost any other State in the Union.

Early Markets—Hungry Markets.

Everything that grows is soon turned into Dollars. Markets are close at hand and give tip-top prices. Sacramento is only 88 miles away and San Francisco, 150. Main line of Southern Pacific Railroad runs through the center of the property. The nearby Sacramento River is always open to freight navigation. Protecting hills which surround the valley insure the ripening of oranges and lemons six weeks in advance of the Los Angeles district and the Southern part of the State.

No Trouble Getting There.

From any of our offices we shall be glad to send a representative to see you. He will cheerfully explain all about freight and passenger rates, and will take up all details for you, so that you will have absolutely no difficulty in making your arrangements to go to California.

Are You Willing to be Shown?

We could go on talking and talking, and then not begin to tell you of the proven opportunities that are awaiting you in the Sacramento Valley. So we have prepared a book, with illustrations colored to show conditions as they actually are, and giving names of those who are making good on this property, and how they have made good. This book represents a great outlay of money, for we have saved no expense to give you the facts. As an assurance of earnestness on your part, we ask 10c for this book—a price that hardly pays for the binding. But it is worth many, many times that small sum to you. It gives you the very information and advice you are seeking—proves the way by recounting what other once dissatisfied men and women have done—how you can do it—how you can get out of the rut and take your place in God's own country, where every man is a MAN in his own right, and master of his own career.

This is more than mere Opportunity—it is CERTAINTY. Get in line. Send for the book—mail the coupon TO-DAY.

venna speech the chairman begged to be excused.

Later in the day, when the story was bruited about that Senator Foraker was to be asked to cancel his engagements, he said:

"I know nothing of any such movement. You must understand that the matter of revoking engagements is in the hands of the county committees."

While there was a marked disposition to evade the discussion of the Garfield onslaught at the Republican state headquarters yet it is known that the officials there heard from all quarters of the state from interested parties. In the political circles of both parties at the capital but little else was discussed. Interest was deepened by the announcement from Cincinnati from Foraker himself that he would reserve answering Garfield until tomorrow, when he is scheduled to speak at Sandusky.

Garfield will make his rejoinder at Bowling Green on the following night. Foraker's next stand will be at Athens on Saturday, when he will be squired by former Congressman Charles Henry Grosvenor, and he may come back at the former cabinet officer at that point.

The danger to the Republican chances is the probability of a demand being made for the enforced withdrawal of Senator Foraker. That gentleman is not inclined to take the Garfield demonstration seriously, and even casts aspersions upon his right to speak as a member of the party in which both claim membership.

A review of the daily party press discovers the important fact that the number of papers that are supporting the Foraker side of the controversy constitute a negligible quantity. The exceptions are papers in Mansfield, Bucyrus and Port Clinton, which are Democratic constituencies. There may be a different story to tell when the weekly publications are canvassed.

A majority of the papers directly evade the discussion of the subject involved in the dispute and devote themselves to deploring the outbreak as detrimental to the success of the ticket.

Senator Dick, as will be noted further along, had adopted the same tactics. Passing through the city yesterday, he was questioned concerning the Garfield pronouncement that he should be defeated and he declined to make a categorical answer.

In the attack of the former cabinet member the discerning Republican politicians today detect the deft hand of former Governor Myron T. Herrick. This powerful leader, it is agreed, directs the policies of the leading Republican papers in Cleveland and Toledo which have been carrying on the propaganda against Dick. Allied with him is Arthur L. Garford of Elyria a member of the state central committee, who is Garfield's traveling companion upon this tour. These organs devote most of their space in the report of the Ravenna speech to the denunciation of Dick, and make the assault upon Foraker a secondary feature. The same influence procured the vote of the nominees for the general assembly in support of a pledge not to give their suffrages to Dick in the event that they are elected and the legislature is Republican.

Prior to the state convention they supported the Garfield movement for the control of that body. Since that time Herrick agents have been quietly at work in the field seeking legislative support for him.

There are many who believe that Senator Foraker was advised of these maneuvers and seized the opportunity afforded him at Marysville to kill two birds with one stone by attacking Roosevelt and lauding his former colleague.

One of the interesting developments of the day was the story that Garfield was himself a candidate to succeed Dick, but this was clearly a "back fire," intended to discredit the former cabinet minister's onslaught. It is a time-honored political device. The prediction is made that henceforth all of the Republican nominees for the legislature will be asked to state for whom they intend to vote.

This demand was made upon the nominees in this county by the independent Republican paper, which cause.

is known to be friendly to Herrick's. All save one are supposed to be committed to Harry M. Daugherty of this city, as their first choice.

In political circles generally it was accepted that the Foraker-Garfield controversy has overshadowed for the time being the gubernatorial contest.

LOW CASTE MANGS.

Hindus Not Only Despise Them, They Fear and Hate Them.

By his fellow Hindu the Mang, one of the lowest of all Indian castes, is not only despised, but even feared and hated. A writer in the Times of India says: "To be cruel is to be 'Mang' bearded; to fly into a passion may be expressed in Marathi idiom as having a Mang within one. When on the occasion of an eclipse fears are awakened for the safety of the sun or moon, it is the Mang whose help is sought. He goes among the people claiming their propitiatory gifts, saying: 'Give your gifts that the grasp may be removed. For are not Rahu and Ketu, the enemies who have laid evil hands on the heavenly bodies, themselves Mangs? Similarly, to their recognized relation with 'dark' worship and with subterranean and demonic influences is to be traced the making of offerings to Mang women on Dussera day and the sinister fact that there are few great buildings erected in pre-British days in this part of India that have not—whether they be temples or forts or palaces—Mang victims built into their foundations."

"The peculiar place that these popular superstitions have given to the Mang community is seen especially in the ceremonies that are sometimes performed for the removal of disease. Frequently when some one has fallen ill a Joshi is consulted and explains the illness as due to the influence of some evil spirit. The one effective prescription to such a case is to call a Mang and give him a dinner. This is not by any means an act of friendliness toward a despised community, but has as its object apparently the propitiation of the demonic power and the removal of the source of the disease from the sick man to its proper habitation."

"With this end in view practices of sympathetic magic, which can be paralleled in the folk lore of many peoples, are employed. Portions of the finger nails or, it may be, fragments of hair of the invalid are secretly mixed with the food to be given to the Mang, and before the sugar water of which he is to partake is given to him the sick man must see his face in it. In this way the evil is supposed to be passed back to where it properly belongs and the disease removed."

Didn't Know "the Uncle."

Aunt Jane—I guess Mr. Spender must be a very neat person. Edith—And what leads you to that opinion? Aunt Jane—He told your Uncle George all his clothes but those upon his back were hung up. Some men, you know, throw their things round anywhere.—Boston Transcript.

STAGE REALISM.

Why Jefferson Didn't Have a Dog Schneider in the Flesh.

It was the privilege of the writer years ago to attend a reception at which Joseph Jefferson spoke on the drama. His treatment of the subject was interesting, the utterance of a man who knew the art of which he spoke. But the most interesting part of the hour came after the completion of the formal address, when an opportunity was given to the audience to ask any questions they wished of Mr. Jefferson. Soon the familiar topic was introduced, the effect of the modern elaboration and realism in stage setting. Mr. Jefferson at once rose to the question. He spoke somewhat rapidly, with a quaint humor and sympathetic charm that were irresistible. He characterized the modern fashion of stage setting as "a tribute to the weakness of the human imagination." "I am often asked," he went on, "why I do not have a real dog Schneider. But if I did none of you would be satisfied. You would go home saying, 'Well, Schneider never looked like that dog! You love Schneider because you have made him out of a piece of your own heart. And then,' meditatively, 'if I had a real Schneider some one in the gallery would probably whistle to him at the critical moment, and he would bark and spoil the play, while if he knew his part perfectly and did just what Schneider ought to do'—pausing and with his delightful smile—"Schneider would be the hero and not Rip!" Then, with a twinkle of the eye, he summed up the whole matter with the quiet remark, "Realism with a tail to wag in the wrong place is a dangerous thing."—New York Post.

The President's Oath.

The oath of office taken by the incoming president of the United States is the shortest and the simplest required of any ruler on earth. It is prescribed by the constitution and is as follows:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and, to the best of my ability, protect, preserve and defend the constitution of the United States."

CURES RHEUMATISM

If It Don't You Can Get Your Money Back, Says Evans' Drug Store.

Now when Evans' Drug Store, the well known druggist, makes such an offer as that, where, Oh where, is the man or woman full of Uric Acid poison, which is the same as Rheumatism who is going to turn it down? Evans' Drug Store has sold a whole lot of Rheuma these last few months and if it didn't do as advertised, he could not afford to make the offer.

Here is more proof: Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for about 26 years and the disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day. I began its use and at this time have no more pains."—Feb. 20, 1910. Rheuma never shirks its duty. It begins with the first dose to act on the kidneys, liver, stomach and blood and to eliminate rheumatic poison from the whole system. 50 cents at Evans' Drug Store, or mailed by the Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. POLICE COURT

Police last night raided the resort of Nellie Watson, 118 Walnut street, and arrested the landlady, an inmate and a visitor. In police court this morning each was fined $5 and the costs.

Ben Moran stole a bicycle yesterday afternoon from a rack in front of Rutledge Bros. store. He was apprehended by Patrolman Callan and locked up. This morning he pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $10 and costs.

Two plain drunks were also arrested and while one was fined $5 and costs, the other one was discharged.

FARMER'S WIFE HAD HEAP TO DO

Mrs. Shepherd Was in Bad Shape When She Could Not Stand on Her Feet.

Durham, N. C.—"I am a farmer's wife," writes Mrs. J. M. Shepherd, of this city, "and have a heap to do."

"Four months ago I could not stand on my feet, to do anything much, but at this time, to do the most of my work. I took Cardui and it did me more good than all the doctors."

"You don't know how I thank you for the Cardui Home Treatment. I wish that all women who suffer from womanly trouble would treat themselves as I have." Ladies can easily treat themselves at home, with Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is easy to take, and so gentle in its action, that it cannot do anything but good.

Being composed exclusively of vegetable ingredients, Cardui cannot lay up trouble in your system, as mineral drugs often do. Its ingredients, having no harsh, medicinal effects, and being non-poisonous and perfectly harmless, Cardui is absolutely safe for young and old.

Ask your druggist. He will tell you to try Cardui.

FLORA OPERA COMPANY

At the High School Auditorium on Thursday, Nov. 17, the Flora Opera and Concert Company will be heard in concert, opera and oratorio. They will present two scenes from the grand opera Martha, also a gypsy scene and old folks' scene, in full costume. This concert will be the opening of the Lyceum tour. They will appear in 40 lecture courses in Ohio, and are also booked in Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia. This will be the most novel and pleasing entertainment given in Newark this season.

AT THE ORPHEUM THEATRE.

A complete change of program at the popular Orpheum Theatre last night of this week, commencing Thursday. The J. Y. Lewis Co. will present their strongest bill, in the way of a two act farce comedy in four scenes, interspersed with musical numbers. A complete change of costumes in each number. This company, it is said, makes the most complete change of show on Thursday, that is from the ridiculous to the sublime. "Milk and Honey" is one big laugh, a farce comedy of the old school and a show that has played the high priced theatres. This is Harry and Fay's original production. There will also be a change in vaudeville. Remember the Orpheum will always have a strictly first class, clean and refined entertainment for ladies and children. Orpheumscope a feature film. Daily matinee 2, 2:15 sharp.

ETNA.

Why You Should Send Now

This book is a treatise on all those diseases peculiar to women. They are fully explained in plain and simple language, that anyone can understand, and instructions for a complete course of home treatment.

In a word, with Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book at hand to refer to in case of need, you need have no cause for anxiety about your ailments.

The Danger of Delay

Any woman who possesses this book has at hand such information as may save her a serious illness, and if she is already ill, it will give her an intelligent understanding of her case and suggest a cure. This book is a text-book—not a mere advertising pamphlet.

Until you have read it, you cannot make sure of the exact nature of your trouble. A great many women suffer from some complaint, which may not seem very serious to them, because they do not know what it is—or to what it may lead.

Perhaps you are one of these women. Do not remain in doubt another day—send for this book and find out for yourself.

This book is written in the kindly sympathetic spirit that guided Mrs. Pinkham in all her actions towards her suffering sisterhood, and you will feel when you are reading it as though you were having a confidential chat with some motherly and trustworthy woman friend.

Remember, your letter will be treated as strictly private and confidential and the book will be posted to you in a perfectly plain envelope, without any printing on the outside.

Fill Up This Coupon

Cut out this Coupon at once—while you think of it. Don't wait till by and by you may forget it. It may be the means of saving you from years of suffering—perhaps from death itself.

Fill in your name and address and send it along to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. It will bring you Mrs. Pinkham's 80-PAGE PRIVATE TEXT-BOOK in a plain envelope by return of post, absolutely free.

POLARIZED WEEK

This week has been set aside as "Polarized Week" for the display, explanation and demonstration of Polarized Fabrics, the wash goods that will not fade. No woman purchasing wash goods can afford to miss this opportunity of seeing and trying these fabrics. Made in the most approved weaves known to wash fabrics, they have become today the "wash goods de Luxe." Polarized fabrics are the result of a new dyeing process—not only that, but every yard is tested and proved to be unchangeable by sunlight before it is put on the market. They are made in Pongees, Poplins, Voiles, Ottomans, Panamas and Mercerized fabrics. They are what every woman is looking for. Dress goods that can be washed and worn in the sun without fading. Get a sample, expose it for a week, wash it in lukewarm water and you will be convinced. You will have salesladies called at your door with these fabrics. Give them a look and they will show you these new weaves in

NO MORE DANDRUFF

Evans' Drug Store Sells the Remedy That is Guaranteed to Kill All Dandruff Germs.

Of course you and every intelligent reader of the Advocate knows that dandruff is caused by a germ. Dr. Sagebund, the great French physician, proved this beyond a doubt.

In order to rid your scalp of filthy dandruff, you must kill the germ. There is a hair dressing called Parisian Sage which is now sold in every town in America; that is guaranteed to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair and scalp itch in two weeks, or money back. If you have dandruff get a large 50 cent bottle today and rid yourself of it. Remember that if dandruff germs are not destroyed in time the hair will surely fall out and baldness will follow.

Here's proof of what Parisian Sage has done; it will do more. It is the finest hair grower and hair dresser in the world and people who use it regularly will never grow bald.

Mrs. John Stoner, Evansville, Ind., writes on June 2, 1910:

"I used Parisian Sage and found it very successful; it removes dandruff and gives the hair life. I only used two bottles. I know it is a cure for dandruff."

Large bottles 50 cents at Evans' drug store and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every carton.

APPLICATION FOR BAIL MADE BY PRISONERS

Assistant Attorney General Miller in the City Today—Criminal Cases To Be Heard After Nov. 9.

At least a hundred prisoners in the city jail are now applying for bail.

James Patton, Frank Grant, also made application for admission to bail. Assistant Attorney General Miller was in court Wednesday afternoon. He stated that he was engaged before the grand jury in Franklin county in the investigation of the street car riots there. It is expected that he will assist at the trials here. He stated that he would be through at Columbus not later than Tuesday of next week.

Counsel for several defendants, indicted for murder in the first degree, suggested that the court examine the testimony taken before the grand jury and determine whether the proof is sufficient to sustain the presumption great and whether the defendants should be admitted to bail.

All defendants, by the order of the court are to have until Saturday next to file applications in all cases in which counsel desire to file application and affidavits for admission to bail. The state is to have until Wednesday night following in which to file its affidavits, and the defendants to have until the following Friday to file reply affidavits, and the cases on the question of bail will be for hearing November 9.

Judge Devor will hold criminal court after Nov. 9.

In the case of the State of Ohio vs. Victor Schrum, heretofore convicted of pocket picking and sentenced to the penitentiary for one year. On an application for a suspended sentence under the statute, the court intimated that he might suspend the sentence if the prosecutor and counsel for the defendant, Judge J. M. Swartz, could agree on some person to take charge of the defendant and make reports to the court from time to time as to the future conduct of Schrum.

Some person will probably be agreed upon between counsel some day during this week.

The court ordered that all motions to quash, pleas in abatement and demurrers to indictments shall be filed by November 9th, and no withdrawals of pleas will be permitted after that date.

In the case of the State of Ohio vs. Elmer Tanner, indicted for perjury, a motion has been filed to quash the indictment.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Curtis W. Howe, indicted for selling mortgaged property, is for trial Thursday morning.

In several homicide cases in which applications have been made to admit defendants to bail, the court held that the burden was upon the defendants to show that they were entitled to be admitted to bail.

After Friday of this week, criminal court will not convene until Wednesday, November 9.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Harry Wickiser, indicted for rape, with consent, the prosecuting witness being under the age of 16, is on trial to the court and jury.

North Chatham Packing Co. vs. J. F. Ryan, tried to the court and jury. Plaintiff sued to recover on an account for goods sold and delivered. The defendant filed a cross petition setting forth that all the goods contracted for were not delivered and that he was compelled to go into the open market and purchase goods to take the place of the goods ordered from plaintiff. A verdict was returned for defendant for $120.01.

M. C. Brown et al. vs. John Adkins, judgment of settlement.

Granted Divorce.

Zanesville, Oct. 26. — Mrs. Emma Moore of Newark was granted a divorce from her husband, Abraham L. Moore, who left his family two years ago, and who has been living in Noble county since that time.

The defendant did not appear to contest the case. His wife charged him with gross neglect, failure to provide and abandonment. She claims that in the last few years he dissipated his earnings and did not provide for the family. The parties were married in 1891 and have three children.

Third Amended Petition.

In the case of Earl E. Davis against the Licking Light & Power Company, the City of Newark and the Newark Telephone Company, wherein the defendant sues for $10,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained, has filed his third amended petition. Plaintiff says that he was on top of a B. & O. freight car Nov. 20, 1907 in the discharge of his duty, when he was knocked from the car by the wires of the defendants which had become lowered by reason of a pole sagging. He says that he was badly injured internally and that he expended large sums of money for medical attention. He therefore asks damages in the above sum.

Petroskey Paroled.

Among the paroled prisoners granted by the board of managers of the Ohio State Reformatory on Tuesday, was that granted to Frank Petroskey, who was sent to the reformatory from Licking county on February 11, 1908, for cutting U. S. Greys with intent to wound. He will be released Dec. 1.

STYLISH FALL COSTUME.

Many of the larger shops are already showing fall fabrics and models. A charming model from which our sketch was made was of black and white plaid mohair, trimmed as shown above with bands of black satin and satin-covered buttons. Chemise and stock were alternate bands of twisted bousseline and Irish insertion, which also served as a finish to the short sleeves, the bousseline being finely plaited in this instance.

A MEMORIAL.

In loving memory of our little Jennie Margaret Alberry, who died October 26, 1901, aged two years.

We had a little treasure once, She was our joy and pride.

We loved her, O, perhaps too well, For soon she had died.

All is dark within our dwelling, Lonely are our hearts today.

For the one we loved so dearly Has forever passed away.

GREAT INTEREST MANIFESTED IN BANNER MEETING

Every citizen in Newark should be interested in the big "Banner Meeting" of the South Newark Business Men's Association Thursday night, Oct. 27.

This meeting is one which will be instrumental in opening the eyes of the general public, to the necessity of improving the south section of the city, and the merchants in the center of Newark, as well as those located in that part, should take an interest in the movement which has been inaugurated by this association. Help, don't talk! It is all right to talk about the raising of the tracks from Sixth to First street, but it will be a great deal better to come to the meeting and hear the arguments of others and then make your speech.

This Association means business and it wants the co-operation of every citizen of Newark.

Just think of the benefit that would accrue to Central Newark, and what will come to you from this movement for the great betterment of our city, and attend the meeting at the Baptist Chapel.

Remember the slogan of "Bigger Newark" and "Everybody Help."

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Think at Least One Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my medicine books and grip as to start out without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a traveling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night, and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, any sort of thing mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakers, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out and all "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day, and a headache about three or four times a week and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment. I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since, and when I stop to think that that is what I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself for I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a potent medicine as much as in selling barbwire.

The larger the soul the simpler the life.

Only people make most of life's friction.
